

Darke County, Ohio – Marriage Consents December 1, 1845 – April 8, 1850

Until 1851 the records of what is now the Probate Court were all under the authority of the Clerk of Common Pleas Court. Although the law for the division of the Common Pleas was passed in 1851 it was not implemented until 1852, when the division of the Clerk of Court of the Common Pleas Records was made and the Probate Court was formed. With this division, the wills, estates, guardianships, marriages were then found under the authority of the Probate Court, with the Common Pleas retaining all divorces, court minutes, chancery, partition and a few higher (Supreme), etc. records.

The following marriage consents were found in File Box L in the Clerk of the Common Pleas office, probably never having been removed to the Probate Court. Since many of these record pre-date the 1850 census, they do furnish important genealogical data.

The dates listed below are the date the license was applied for and/or the date consent was given. They will be listed chronologically by date, so that if you have the actual marriage date, it will not be hard to check if a consent was a part of the original record. However, it should be noted that NO RECORD appears in the Marriage Record for some of these marriages. Thus, it is not known if they didn't take place or took place and the return was never made to the court to be recorded. It should also be noted that some of these names will NOT be consistent with what appears in the actual marriage record and it is up to the user to determine the accurate names. Spelling is as found.
