

SHARING THE SECRET

April 2008

Volume 2, Issue 4

Arcanum Wayne Trail Historical Society, Inc., 123 W. George St., Arcanum, Ohio 45304

President's Report by Richard Troutwine

As I reported to you in the last newsletter the 1st floor entry room and second room on the Westside of the building needed refinished. My brother, Fred and I accomplished this feat by scraping the paint off the floors, sanding, staining, and then applying two coats of satin polyurethane. Other then sore backs and knees the floors turned out fine. Another piece of carpet has be serged identical to the existing one in the first room. It look very nice.

Dave Flora now has the front porch hand rail installed. In the spring or summer a new front storm door and transom will replace the present configuration.

In the conference room the movie projector from the Ritz Theater is now on display. This projector was donated by the Harry Sarver, Jr. family. The theater ticket booth owned by Tom Staley has been donated and is on display with the projector. Please note an old RJ Warner Insurance electric clock has been donated by Cary Wogoman. This clock hangs at the north end of the room, it also serves as a night light. Two long boards with pegs have been mounted to the walls so that various pictures/items can be hung from the pegs. More boards will be installed.

Annette Stewart replaced Barbara Deis as the corresponding secretary. Barb gets a big thank you as past secretary and will continue to be in charge of the newsletter.

During the "Old Fashioned Days" weekend the Historical Society will have an Open House. Please come and look over the items in the display cases as well as the upgrades to the building.

We would like to have a large portable TV, up to 36", to view CDs and tapes which have been made from movies and pictures given to the historical society. Contact me or any board member if you have a TV for us.

Financially, as of February 29th the checking/savings balance was $3219.71. Our debt stands at $8202.58.

The checking/savings account was bolstered by $ 680.00, a profit from the Longaberger Basket party held March 15.

May 8th - Speaker - Arcanum's Mayor Wallace Alderman Jr.

AWTHS looks forward to having Arcanum's newly elected mayor, Wallace Alderman Jr., speak at the membership meeting May 8th. Mayor Alderman brings to this position much energy and enthusiasm. He is a hands-on mayor who welcomes you to stop in and see him.

Join us Thursday, May 8 at 7:00 to meet our mayor.

Summertime

May 8 will be the last membership meeting before adjourning for the summer. Card parties and membership meetings will resume in September. Although there are no membership meetings, the board continues to meet the first Tuesday of each month during this time. If you have a concern or idea, please call our president. The board welcomes your input. The summer months are busy with various fund raisers. Read the Ways and Means Report on page 2. Your involvement is important to the success of these activities. Contact Jenny Quigney or a board member for details.

Arcanum Public LibraryWhen It Began 1910

The Arcanum Times 11-24-1910 Some of Arcanum's enterprising ladies have taken up the project of a library association with the ultimate idea of forming a public library. Come to the first meeting at the M.E. Church Wednesday evening Nov. 30th at 8 o'clock and help boost the plan.

(Note: The enterprising ladies were members of the Criterion Club.)

The Arcanum Times 12-8-1910 Much enthusiasm was created at the meeting held in the M.E. Church last Wednesday (Nov. 30) evening for the purpose of organizing a library association in this city. Quite a large crowd was present, principally members of the different society clubs. An organization was perfected and an option on a room has been secured and in a course of a few weeks a fine library will be established in our town. A membership fee of 50 cents will be charged and the possibility for a large association is very promising, as the small membership fee ought to encourage a large percent of our people to become members of the association. The following officers of the association were elected: President, J.A. Smith; Vice President, Nellie Eichelbarger; Secretary, Geo. T. Reigle; Treasurer, Belle Sigerfoos. (Note: The room secured for the library was on the second floor of Smith Big Store. The circulation of books was 450 in 1911.)

Devastating Fire 1959

After a fire destroyed the library, which was then located on George St., the community came together to replace the books and start again. In 1963 the Ivester property was secured and became the permanent library.

Year 2007

Statistics for the Arcanum Public Library for 2007 are:

Circulation of Books - Adult, Juvenile, Periodicals, Pamphlets	71,300
Circulation of Audios - Adult, Juvenile and audio books	1,178
Circulations of DVD's, Videos and Films	16,798
Plus circulation of puppets, puzzles, microfilm, CDRom, Games	Total 99,165

More from The Arcanum Times

8-15-1963 Library Given Rare Collection of Books Daughters of J. M. Bunger of Union City, Ohio gave their fathers' collection of rare books to the Arcanum Public Library. Mr. J. M. Bunger had been superintendent of Arcanum Public Schools from 1892 to 1894 and Darke County Superintendent. He died in Union City in 1938 with his wife dying last year (1962). The collection is quite old with many first editions.

More Cars Are Coming To Arcanum - 1908

Arcanum Times 6-18-1908 Now a Law The state law requiring a license for automobiles became effective Wednesday (June 17, 1908). Under this law owners of gasoline automobiles must pay the Secretary of State $5.00 and electric vehicle owner $3.00. Owners of automobiles must report to the Secretary of State office giving name of car, name of manufacturer, horsepower and serial number if there are any. There are several machines in Arcanum and vicinity upon which the tax must be paid.

Arcanum Times 7-16-1908 More cars are coming to Arcanum. C.O. Hoffman has an automobile, he ran it so fast on his way home from work that his hat and wig blew off. He lost all the time he made recovering his hear gear.

Religious Heritage

Religious Heritage of Arcanum and the surrounding area continues.

St. Matthew's Lutheran Church - Founded 1847

6825 St. Rt. 722, Ithaca

The St. Matthew's Evangelical Lutheran Church was officially organized on August 23, 1847. The constitution adopted on that day provided for the building of a frame house of worship located southeast of Twinsboro (Ithaca). Due to the growing congregation the old church was dismantled to make room for a larger brick structure in 1865, with the men sitting on the east side and the women sitting on the west side. This church served the faithful well until 1922 when the present church was constructed on the same site.

The founding families had gathered together for many years, probably as early as 1835, to worship whenever a pastor or missionary came their way.

A cemetery subscription fund was established in 1857 to provide for the Christian burial of family members. Provisions were made for the burial of spouses and/or children of members. In 1872 it became necessary to provide space for "strangers" - ones who were not members of the church. It was determined that no burials should be made on either side of the church, and that strangers would be buried along the outside edge. Burials were made in chronological order, with adults in one row and children in another. In 1879 the question of developing family plots was raised. It was decided that the idea was impractical, because there was not enough space. The last burial was in 1978.

In the early years Lutherans were generally not English-speaking people, even though they had immigrated into an English-speaking land. Geographically, the churches were far from the influence of a Lutheran seminary. Many congregations met with the Reformed group, and in many cases, made no distinction between the two denominations. There were few Lutheran books of worship, usually printed in English, with little reference to their German background, and carried primarily by preachers. The rigors of the frontier caused the people to welcome anyone who spoke the Name of the Lord. It wasn't until 1903 that the change to the English language for all services at St. Matthew's was completed.

When the first building became too small in 1865, it was disassembled, sold to the Trinity Lutheran Church and reassembled on State Route 49 near Midway. From the time of its founding, Trinity and St. Matthew's have shared a pastor. During their joint history there has been discussion as to whether they should consolidate the two congregations, separate completely, or continue jointly as they have. They have continued jointly as a two-point parish, holding joint services through-out the year. In 1914 St. Matthew's congregation built a parsonage Arcanum, a location between the two churches. After all was completed, financial arrangements for the shared use of the parsonage were worked out with the Trinity congregation, as well as that of the pastor.

Through the years many pastors have served St. Matthew's, leading the congregation spiritually and by sharing their individual talents and interest. Pastor Hilbert Piel was interested in the preservation of the old church records, and arranged to have them microfilmed and placed in the Archives Library of Wartburg Seminary in Dubuque, Iowa. In 1974, the Greenville Chapter of the D.A.R. transcribed and typed these records.

This information was taken from "A Narrative History: St. Matthew's Evangelical Lutheran Church" published 1989.

News From The Past

The Arcanum Times May 22, 1952 A total of 485 Railroad Fan Club members last week participated in an excursion through Greenville on the Dayton and Union Line. It was the first passenger run on the old route since 1928.

The Arcanum Times Oct. 21, 1909 Filling Gravel Pit A large force of men are now at work filling the old Townsend gravel pit east of the Abbottsville Church, preparatory to getting it in readiness for the laying out of burial lots. The land being filled and leveled up comprises 3 acres of ground and when completed will make the most beautiful part of the entire cemetery. It required 35,000 yards of dirt to fill up this hole.

Rosser Family Lumber Company 1880-1962

Thirty years after Rosser Lumber Company was sold to Cashway Lumber Company, a subsidiary of Carter-Jones Company of Akron, the tornado of 1992 destroyed the business William Franklin Rosser and W. H. Francis organized in 1880.

First located at 110 S. East St., the Francis & Rosser Lumber Company relocated to 205 E. Second St. where it remained. With the coming of the Indiana, Bloomington & Western Railroad businesses moved to make room for the tracks or moved nearer for the convenience of receiving and shipping materials by rail. In the early years they bought local lumber and also manufactured shingles which they sold at their business.

For 82 years 3 generations of Rosser men supplied building supplies for the growing community of Arcanum and the surrounding area. Carl A. Rosser joined his father in the business followed by Carl's son Harold A. Rosser. A number of Rosser family members also owned an interest in the company and served as company officers from the time of its incorporation in 1905. Over the years the name changed, although the name was always a variation W. F. Rosser Lumber Company.

After 25 years, in 1905, the partnership between W. F. Rosser and W. H. Francis dissolved, when Francis left to move to Troy to care for his business interests in that town. Although not partners, they continued a long business relationship, each having interests in lumber yards located in West Manchester, Lewisburg, Gordon Pittsburg and Lynn, Indiana.

By the time Harold Armond Rosser became president and general manager, following C. A. Rosser's death, the company had enlarged their line of merchandise and was selling fence posts, sewer pipe, tobacco boxes, lath, paint, corncribs and as well as lumber, shingles, doors, blinds and other home improvement products.

A change of direction took place when Harold took the helm. In 1937 the lumber company constructed a model home at 2 Ivester Lane, then followed with more homes on the same street a few year later.

The home construction business grew as the community grew. LU-RE-CO Homes were manufactured by the W.F. Rosser Lumber Company and erected on S. Albright Street, S. High Street and the Westview Development. Harold Rosser also organized Rosser Purchasing Company, opened a retail store and Better Homes & Gardens Idea Center. Harold operated the Rosser Purchasing Company from an office on the second floor of the First National Bank Building at 19-21 West George St. from Feb. 1952 to Dec. 1962.

At the request of officials of the West Ohio Conference of the Methodist Church, Harold moved to Worthington, Ohio to find a site and oversee the establishment of the Wesley Glen Retirement Center. At completion he was named it's first Director. While living in Worthington, he continued to keep a home in Arcanum and served as President of Arcanum National Bank.

Giving back to the people who supported their businesses, the Rosser men and women were active in the community through their involvement with the school, Trinity Methodist Church, civic programs and by bringing revenue into town with new business ventures

Away from the lumber business Harold was one of the original incorporators of the Arcanum Bowling Alley and was one of the men who started the Arcanum Locker Plant, which was located below the library that burned on George Street. He also built the Rosser Tennis Courts located near what is now the historical society.

Following Harold's death an era of the Rosser family promoting, encouraging and supporting the community ended. Harold's son, Richard, after 20 years as a career Air Force officer, held outstanding positions in higher education including time as President of DePauw University in Greencastle, Indiana. Daughter Marilyn made her home in Dayton with husband Dr. Jack Strickler and their 2 children.

Information for this article was taken from Anita Short's Arcanum Business Book, the Arcanum Sesquicentennial Book I and from talking with Marilyn Strickler.

Arcanum Weekly Times - Aug. 9, 1906 You may get some idea of the extent of the tobacco crop in Darke County from the purchase of 1,500,000 feet of lumber for the box trade this fall by W. F. Rosser Son & Co.
